GOVERNOR

April 6, 2015

Dear Project Appleseed Members,

On behalf of the State of Maine I would like to recognize your patriotism and love for our country. Your organization is taking great strides to teach early American heritage and promote the art of rifle marksmanship. Our founding fathers relied on skilled marksman to achieve independence during the Revolutionary War.

Maine citizens are proud of their heritage and understand that it is important to protect the freedoms we all cherish today. The right to bear arms is one of those freedoms that can teach individuals valuable skills. You are doing great work teaching the art of marksmanship which helps fine tune an individual's skills with patience, determination, focus, attention to detail, and persistence.

I also appreciate the work you are doing to teach the events that occurred during the Revolutionary War. As you know, on April 19, 1775, brave patriots of Concord and surrounding towns stood strong against tyrants seeking to seize their arms and provisions. These patriots should always be remembered and honored for fighting for what they believed in.

I wish Project Appleseed members continued success with your mission. Your work is important and insures that these critical issues will never be forgotten.

Sincerely,

Paul R. LePage
Governor
